The Parliaments Resolution concerning the Kings most Excellent Majesty, and the Lords, and Commons that have abled themselves without leave.

Uch are the di-stempers of the times, so many severall Factions
that neither Court, nor City, is free from the fruits of malignity, which has beene the main Motive to induce the High Court of Parliament to set downe their Resolution both concerning the Kings most excellent Majesty, and the Lords and Commons at York, now attending his Maieſty To which end they have presented verall Propositions to his Maieſty, deli-ring him graciously to condeſcend to the things propoſed, declaring that their Reſolution was (thoſe juſt and honourable propositions granted) to ſettle his Maieſties Revenue, to advance his Honour, above his Predeceſſours, to eſtabliſh his Government in greater Peace, and fuller of content, then ever it was ſince he came to the Crown,  if his Maieſty ſhould ſee fit to grant the ne-ceſſary requests of his Parliament, they are reſolved, being inforced by their Oath of Allegiance, and due to his Maieſty, to endeavour to ſecure his Maieſties Per-ſon, from thoſe imminent dangers that threaten to deſtroy him and his Poſterity, and to preſerve the Peace of his Maieſties Kingdomes, and Subjects, and to prevent the deſignes which are both dangerous to his Maieſty, and the ſaid King-domes, by the authorſty of both Houſes of

of Parliament, in such manner as the had pronounced to his Maieſty, which they were reſolued to doe accordingly.

They reſolved alſo that the Members of the ſaid Houſe, that had abſented themſelves without leave ſhould pay their Fine of 100 pounds a man, and to be examined by a Committee before their next ſitting, in the Houſe, to ſhew the cauſe of their abſenting themſelves, upon ſummons of the ſaid Houſe.

This is the Reſolution of the Lords and Commons aſſembled in Parliament, and this they are compelled to the malignant Party having gotten ſue a ſtrong faction, and his Royall maieſty diſcenting from their juſt and honourable re-queſts, and all thoſe that are deſirous to declare themſelues true Subiects to his Maieſty, and maintainers of the peace of the Kingdome, are bound in conſcience, both by Lawes of God, and the Kingdome, to ioyne with the Parliament,

and to put their commands in speedy execution, their commands being both iust and honourable, all their Actions, Studies and endeavours, tending to the preservation of his Maiesties Sacred Person, the advancement of the Gospell and the true Orthodox Doctrine of the Church of England, and the maintenance of the Libertie and propriety of the Subject, and to the end that his Maiesties Loving Subjects may be encouraged to put their Commands in speedy execution, not being deterr'd, or daunted with vaine surmizes, of faint feare, (like Cowards which dreame of death at the report of a battaile) they have likewise set downe their Resolution concerning the Citie of London, and all other Counties in these his Maiesties Dominions,

As touching the Designe, they resolved, finding the dangerous and mischievous Intentions and desperate Actions, of some evil affected persons about his Maiesty,

to be such, and of such dangerous consequence, that whatsoever is most precious and of most esteem to men of Conscience and Honour, namely Religion, Liberty, and publique safety, are like to be overwhelmed, and lost in the generall confusion, and calamity of this distracted Kingdome.

And that there may be no way unattempted, nor meanes neglected, that may dissolve all doubts and jealousies, and to prevent those horrid mischiefs, the Lords and Coinmons doe declare, their honours intentions, and legall proceedings, so as those of the Citie, which lend their willing assistance, and contribute thereunto, and all other his Maiesties good Subjects and loyall Liege People, may be assured that by doing their duty herein, and in condescending to their iust, and necessary Propositions, they shall assuredly be protected, and secured in their Persons, Liberties, and Estates, by the power and
Au--

Authority of both Houses of Parliament, according to their former Engagements, which they will ever faithfully performe.

The Reason why the Subjects are bound to obey the Command of the Parliament Voted.

That if in case of necessity, if his Ma-iesty shall deny his assent, the Ordinance agreed on by both Houses of Parliament, doth oblige the People, and ought to be obeyed, being warranted by the Fundamentall Lawes of the Kingdome.

Ordered by the Lords and Commons in Parliament, that this be Printed and Published.
